PLANTING GUIDE

WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF OUR CUSTOMERS to this Planting Guide and Catalogue of “Floral Treasures” as “first aid” to assist you in solving your plant, bulb, or landscape problems. We have tried to give information on the “most often asked” questions but in a limited space it is impossible to cover all points. We are at your service. While we are prepared to give the same prompt service to which our patrons are accustomed, there is a peculiar condition for a few weeks in the Spring, when the bulk of our business is crowded into a few weeks time. To relieve this congestion, may we ask you to get your order in as early as possible, but be governed wholly by your planting time. Preserve this Planting Guide as it is valuable the year around.

Roses

Your first requisite to success is to procure summer propagated—fall or winter rested—own root roses. As long as a stem of such a plant remains you have the same Rose. Budded or grafted plants will throw shoots from the roots and eventually sap the very life from the graft and leave you a bed of wild stuff that never blooms. Our slogan for forty years, “Buy Own Root Roses” is still in vogue. Some of the complimentary letters received this fall from New England to California and from the Lakes to the Gulf about the success of own root Roses—roots the slogan firmer in our minds than ever and we will grow them by the million.

Roses for Outdoor Planting

THE SOIL—A deep clay loam with free drainage. If drainage is bad, the soil must be thrown out to a depth of 18 inches, and, if it is not convenient to use tiles, about 6 or 8 inches of broken bricks or other rough material should be thrown in the bottom, and a layer of turf laid on top, grassy side down. On the top of the turf should be placed a layer of well-decayed manure, then a light layer of soil, and another layer of manure, on top of which should be placed the remainder of the soil, to which, if light and sandy, should be added a liberal supply of well-chopped-up turf, raising the whole of the bed to a height of about 4 inches above the original level of the soil. In case of heavy land, a layer of lime rubble should be added, as this will help to sweeten the soil.

PLANTING—Should be deferred in the north until the soil is in proper condition to receive the plants in the spring, as it is a great mistake to plant in wet soil. Teas and Hybrid Teas should be planted about 18 inches apart and the Hybrid Perpetuals 2 feet apart, keeping all manure away from direct contact with the roots when planting. Firm the soil well around the plants and give a thorough watering.

PROTECTION—None needed in warm states. Northern States must protect Teas and Hybrid Teas (the Ever-blooming class). Bend the plants to the ground and cover to the depth of six or eight inches with dirt, or hill them up to within 2 or 3 inches of the top of plants. Do this on the approach of freezing weather. Or wrap each plant with straw, and about this wrap five or six thicknesses of newspaper; tie this at intervals, leaving about three inches of plant exposed for air. More plants are smothered than are frozen by the average amateur. Let the straw flare out at the bottom to run water away from the root of the plant when it rains. Remove this as late in the spring as possible, so that you miss the late spring freezes, which are death to Roses after the sap starts up.

PRUNING—Remove all old growth from the Ever-blooming class, as this induces new growth, from which you get the flowers. Cut all dead growth from Hybrid Perpetuals and Hardy Climbers after they bloom in June. The new growth starts from the old wood and produces the blooming wood for the coming year. This pruning of Teas and Hybrid Teas should be done in early spring.

“...To dig and delve in nice clean dirt
Can do a mortal little hurt.
To five 'mongst lush and growing things
It be to give the spirit.
Who works 'mongst roses soon will find
Their fragrance budding in his mind.
Gold, green, and white and purple
Well, that's the sort of mind for me.”

FERTILIZER—Use well-rotted manure or bone-meal when plant growth stops. This induces new growth, from which you get the bloom.

INSECTS—Aphis, leaf-rollers, and slugs are the most common. Spray with Rose Nicotine, being sure to reach the under side of the leaves and the tender tips of the branches. We can supply this at 50 cents per bottle. Send check or money order to nearest express office. Can only be sent by express prepaid.

MILDEW—The white mould-like stuff on tender leaves. Caused by warm days and cool nights. Dust flowers of sulphur on the affected leaves. Get this from the druggist.

THE SORTS TO PLANT—To have bloom all the summer, plant Tea and Hybrid Teas, known as Ever-blooming Roses. They will all flower all summer under ordinary care. Keep soil well stirred. Mulch to a depth of three inches with fresh stable manure or lawn clippings during the heat of summer. If you wish Rose hedges, use all one variety. No two sorts grow alike, and an uneven hedge is unsightly.

Southern and Pacific States should order Tea, Hybrid Tea, Climbing Tea, Polyantha and Perpetuals. These are ever-bloomers. Add Hybrid Perpetuals, Hardy Climbers and Moss for the Northern States.

If planted early, protect from frost, wind and sun by invert¬ing a fruit jar over each plant, tilting to admit a little sun. Whitewash the jar on the outside or wrap with paper, to break the direct rays of the sun.

Carnation

Plant in the open ground, or in pots, make large specimens, and when brought indoors in the fall produce an abundance of flowers throughout the entire winter. Pinch the plant back frequently during the summer season. In fall large bulbs may be obtained in four or five-inch pot, keep in temperature of forty or fifty degrees at night. If not pinched in they will bloom profusely during the summer. Any good garden soil with some well-rotted manure added.

Cultivation of Dahlia

They love an open sunny location, but succeed in partial shade. Prepare the soil thoroughly by digging 12 to 18 inches deep, possibly in the fall and then again in the spring, before planting. If the soil is poor, work in some well-rotted stable manure, or artificial fertilizer, but don't overdo this. If you wish Rose hedges, use all one variety. No two sorts grow alike, and an uneven hedge is unsightly.

Dig the holes 3 feet apart, and about 6 inches deep; drive a stout stake in each hole, and lay the tuber down flat, with the eyes to the stake, and about three inches of fine soil, leaving the hole to be filled after the plant comes up. Plant any time between April 1st and June 10th.

When the plants have made their third set of leaves, cut out the top, to make them branch.

The most important thing from now on is hoeing and culti¬vating the soil until the buds appear; then give the beds a good mulching of manure, to keep the ground moist; and water the plants thoroughly once or twice a week.

If red spider or thrips appears, spray with a nicotine solution. To have large blooms, it is absolutely necessary to disbud; that means, to break off all the side shoots on each stem, above the first or second set of leaves, leaving the sprouts near the base of each stem, so as to insure a new crop of blossoms. Dahlias will continue to bloom until the frost stops the tops; the tubers are dug and stored in a dry cellar or basement, covering them with dry soil or sawdust, to keep from shriveling. Divide the tubers in the spring after the eyes show plainly, being careful that each tuber has an eye. Cover them again and keep dry until planted. Wood ashes used sparingly and bone flour are essential to fine Dahlias.
Gloriads

Will do well in almost any soil under any conditions. If planted in the fall, they will make good growth the next season. If planted in the spring, they will need a few months of rest before they will bloom. They are hardy plants and do not require any special care. However, they will do better if given plenty of moisture, which they will need throughout the growing season.

German Iris

IRIS—are sun loving plants, and delight in a warm, well drained soil, where the roots at the surface can become hardened in the sun; they will thrive well almost anywhere except in low, wet places.

CULTURE—A dry, sunny location is best, and they do well in almost any soil that is not too low and damp. By all means avoid wet spots. More soil can be used to cover the plant if you must enrich the soil. Plant to depth not to exceed two inches.

Hardy Perennial Phlox

This is one of the most easily grown hardy perennials, can be used to advantage either as single specimens in the mixed border or as large clumps or beds on the lawn. They should have a rich, deep, fertile soil, well drained, in a sunny location. Plant about two to three feet in each to develop. They will continue to thrive for several years with little attention, as is attested by their possession of a double row of two or three yellow flowers.

Perennials for the Border

Can be planted either fall or spring. A light covering of rough litter or pine boughs where obtainable—well weighted down to keep them in place, never use leaves. They pack tightly over plants and in case of sleet in winter your plants smother.

More plants are considered than are growing. Check the list of compact plants.

Ferns—Good soil, earthy in character, otherwise mix one-fourth well-rotted manure with any good garden soil, adding a little sand to the soil to prevent it from becoming waterlogged. Thoroughly each time until the soil becomes dry, when it can be cycled, then stop and do not water again until the soil becomes dry. Water lightly at first and then stop and do not water again until the soil becomes dry. Give a light shower, but do not place in direct sunlight.

Insects and Ferns—Two sorts of scale insects—fern scale and the brown scale. The first is quite small and white, the latter half round, brown in color and about the size of a grain of corn. The white scale is used for borders of walks and beds in the South. Hardy north

TREATMENT—Burn the plant affected with white scale. Make a jacket of Ivory Soap, and with a toothbrush scrub the brown scale out of the leaves. If you have large numbers of leaves, wash them off with a solution of bicarbonate of soda and water. This is a sign when the leaves become spotty or spotty. Take the plant from the soil and wash it thoroughly with water. Subdue light and good circulation of air will bring results. Allow bulb to rest in Summer. Repot in September.

MEALY BUG is the only insect that troubles this list of plants. Place in the doz or even by the hundred.

Prize Winning Chrysanthemums

Hardy in the South and middle States if given a good protection through the winter with rough litter.

Chrysanthemums deserve a place in every garden, coming as they do after the Summer flowers have begun to wane, and continuing to bloom profusely in most places until well into November. The cultivation of these 'Mums' is simple: Plant them in a rich, well-drained piece of ground. Setting out the plants a foot apart and pinching them once or twice during the months of May or June. They will branch or make beautiful bushes and give the cultivator more return for the labor expended than any plant in the garden. There is a place for 'Mums' in every garden in America.

Price, 15 Cents Each; 3 for 40 Cents; 12 for $1.48.

The Following Varieties Are All Large Flowering

Beautiful Ferns for the Home

Visitors are astonished at the beautiful varieties of ferns which we offer and remark: "We never see such specimens in our home greenhouses."

There are no plants grown that are more desirable for the house than the following fine decorative Ferns. They are easily grown, thrive well in the ordinary temperature of the living room. See that the plants have plenty of drainage and are kept well watered; never let dry out for any length of time, nor allow them to stand in water. That we are headquarters for Ferns is evidenced by the choice assortment that we offer. No other firm offers so many distinct and choice varieties.

The Baby's Breath Fern

Nephrolepis Goodii.

(Introduced by The Good & Reese Co.)

This Fern is splendid to use for Fern Dish Planting. It has the finest foliage of all the Ferns. It is so delicate that a lady on seeing it exclaimed: "Call it the Baby's Breath Fern, as it is so dainty in texture that a baby's breath would set its fluffy foliage in motion."

It is an improved variety, and the best of its type. Nothing is daintier or more exquisite than well grown specimens. Fine young plants, 30c each; 3 for 75c; strong plants, 75c.

The Newport Fern

Nephrolepis Scotti.

Of much dwarfer and bushier growth than the Boston Fern. The fronds droop gracefully, and are not as long and heavy as the Boston. It is a rapid grower and has always been a favorite variety. Fine young plants, 25c; 3 for 67c; strong plants, 60c.

The Teddy Junior Fern

"Teddy Junior," the Fern for every household. The fronds are broad and beautifully tapered from base to tip; they droop just enough to make a shapely, graceful plant, permitting it to finish with a fine full center and perfect symmetrical spread. The pinnae are distinctly undulated, giving the "Roosevelt" a pronounced wavy effect; as the plant ages this effect becomes quite distinct. Fine young plants, 20c each; 3 for 50c; strong plants, 75c.

The Wannamaker Fern

A new Fern of wonderful beauty. Long, narrow, gracefully drooping crinkled fronds. It is not so compact as Scholzeli, and, therefore, is a very airy and graceful Fern, and very durable in the house. A rapid grower; quite distinct from other Ferns. Fine young plants, 25c; 3 for 67c; strong plants, 75c.

The Ostrich Plume Fern

Nephrolepis Whitmanii.

Everyone who has seen it is charmed with it. As someone has expressed it: "There is nothing like the Ostrich Plume Fern in cultivation." In decorative effect it so far outdistances the original variety that there is positively no comparison to be made. Fine young plants, 20c; 3 for 50c; strong plants, 60c.

The Perfect Ostrich Plume Fern

Nephrolepis Whitmanii Compacta.

This is a condensed form of the "Ostrich Plume Fern." with valuable characteristics added which are not evident in the parent, the pinnae subdividing, making miniature fronds which are superimposed on the main fronds, looking as if two or more were condensed into one. Fine young plants, 25c; 3 for 67c; strong plants, 60c.

Beautiful Ferns for the Home—Continued

The Crested Fern
Nephrolepis Scholzeli.

The fronds are crested and stand erect, with graceful arch, forming a plant of ideal shape, and they never break down, giving the plant a ragged appearance, as is so often the case with other plumed ferns. Fine young plants, 20 cents each; 3 for 50 cents; large plants, 60 cents each.

The Boston Fern
Nephrolepis Bostoniensis.

Fronds which frequently attain a length of six feet. These arch and droop over very gracefully, on account of which it is frequently called the Fountain Fern. This drooping habit makes it an excellent plant to grow as a single specimen on table or pedestal. Fine young plants, 20c each; 3 for 50c; strong plants, 75c.

The Fluffy Ruffles Fern
Nephrolepis Superbissima.

This new Fern is quite different from all other Ferns. Its distinguishing characteristics are its dark green foliage, darker than any other Fern, its dense growth, much more compact, and its irregular shaped fronds, which give it the name of "Fluffy Ruffles Fern." The fronds are very heavily imbricated, the pinnae overlapping, and so formed as to resemble miniature Ferns, giving it the appearance of a Fern within a Fern. The plant is very sturdy in its habit. Fine young plants, 40c each; 3 for $1.10; large size, 75c.

For Table Decoration

CARNATIONS—The Divine Flower—PINKS

For beauty of flower and color, ease of culture, certainty and freedom of bloom, together with exquisite fragrance, this is well called the "Divine Flower." Plants in the open ground, or in pots, quickly make large specimens, and when brought indoors in the fall produce an abundance of flowers throughout the entire winter. Carnation blooms are expensive; don't buy them—grow them yourself. Punch the plant back frequently during the summer season. In the fall bring indoors, place in a four or five-inch pot, keep temperature of forty or fifty degrees at night, and they yield an immense number of flowers with splendid stems, as fine as those sold by florists. If not pinched in they will bloom profusely during the summer. Your order is incomplete without some Carnations.

Carnation, Enchantress Supreme.

AVIATEUR—Brilliant dark red, shaded with richest maroon, fringed petals. This variety surpasses in richness of color the most perfect Jacqueminot Rose. 20 cents each; 3 for 50 cents.

ENCHANTRESS—This variety has been greatly admired wherever it has been seen for its desirable color, being a beautiful light pink satin color; flowers large size and very freely produced. Plant of grand habit and vigorous growth. It is a superb variety. 20 cents each; 3 for 50 cents.

ENCHANTRESS SUPREME—Certainly a grand pink Carnation of the largest size and deliciously scented. 20 cents each; 3 for 50 cents.

GOOD CHEER—One of the most fragrant Carnations we have seen. Color a clear, bright, glowing cerise; a most continuous bloomer and distinct in color from any other sort offered. 20 cents each; 3 for 50 cents.

MATCHLESS—Largest flowers of the purest immaculate white. Very sweetly scented with that delightful old-fashioned clove fragrance. 20 cents each; 3 for 50 cents.

Carnation, Matchless.

Japanese Flowered Peonies

The beauty of the flower, its gorgeous combination of colors, its beautiful arrangement of the stamenoids, added to the great size of many of the sorts, has placed the Japanese Peony in the front rank with Peony enthusiasts, and at the recent National Peony Show, whole tables were devoted to this class. We name a choice selection embracing the very best known.

GLADIOLI

THE most popular, easy growing flower of the garden, not "touchy" about soil or conditions, but responding fine to good soil and location by an increase in size and color of flowers. This grand flower is so nearly hardy that they can be planted in March for early bloom and allowed to remain in ground till matured in fall. Plant them by the dozens or hundreds; mix them in your perennial beds; they will bloom when perennials have finished. Our list is complete and the descriptions have been "boiled down" to give you a mind picture of just how the flower looks. The riot of colors in some of the gorgeous flowers is hard to describe and space will not permit of the necessary adjectives. The bulbs have made a fine growth this season and we are sure you will have good results if order is placed with headquarters for your wants. Our bulbs have never been used for cut flowers, which insures you all the vitality that could be stored up in a bulb by having its foliage to assist perfect development.
